Are Executed for Killing Americans in Brownsville Region.

Brownsville, Texas, May 19.—The first legal executions in payment of the penalty for American lives lost in border raids by Mexican bandits last summer and fall, took place here today, with the hanging of Melitiano Chapa and Jose Buenavista, aged 25 and 25 respectively, found guilty of murder in connection with the death of A. L. Austin and his son Charles, following a raid on Sebastian, Cameron county, August 6, 1915.

THANKS CITIZENS FOR THEIR HELP

Sgt. Huddleston, Company K, Tells of Guardsmen's Gratitude For Fund.

The chamber of commerce received a letter Thursday from sergeant E. W. Huddleston, company K, at Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio, expressing deep gratitude at the helpful efforts of El Paso business men in their behalf. A portion of the letter follows:

"It is with gratitude we acknowledge the generosity of El Paso business men in appreciating the fact that our company, the largest in the Fourth infantry, Texas national guard, has journeyed many miles for the purpose of defending the border. The splendid sum of $200 placed to our credit will enable company K to maintain its dignity and integrity."

"We represent every chief industry of El Paso and coming in payment of our service is divided only between our officers and the city of the sandy streets and to provide that the American flag and honor be not besetled."

"By the time the national guard is sent into the United States soldiers or shall have uniforms and equipment on par with any soldiers in America."

JUAREZ CITIZENS RETIRE 10,000 PESOS OLD PAPER

Members of the Juarez patriotic committee, organized last week for the purpose of assisting the national committee in Mexico City in retelling and destroying the old issues of Carrancista currency are very enthusiastic as to the success of their movement. Up to Friday morning nearly 10,000 pesos had been disposed of.

The old bills are found in citizens who are willing to lend their note towards the restoration of a sound national currency. When a bill is turned in it is cut into three equal pieces, one of which is kept in the archives of the local committee, one piece is retained by the donor as a souvenir and the remaining piece is sent to the national treasury.

A. Gonzalez is president, E. Gutierrez, vice president; J. S. Vasquez, treasurer; Antonio Prieto, director, and L. Henriquez G. secretary. They say they are confident that they will be able to retire more than 100,000 pesos in Juarez. Meetings are held in the office of the revenue tax collector, where the receipts are kept and where all money that is to be destroyed is being brought.

That portion of the Mexican custom house in Juarez set aside for the exchange of the new paper currency for bright golden Hidalgo and half Hidalgo pieces is a busy place. Starting eight days ago, from 15,000 to 20,000 paper pesos were exchanged daily for Mexican five and ten peso gold pieces. Since merchants in Juarez have seen that they can exchange the new paper currency for gold coins they are not so anxious to bring in the new bills for redemption and the amount that is exchanged has dropped from 4000 to 2000 pesos. Collector Gonzalez says he has enough of the new five and ten dollar peso pieces to satisfy all comers.

BIG MINING FIRMS PAY EMPLOYEES IN THE MILITIA

Douglas, Ariz., May 19.—Employees of the Copper Queen and Calumet and Arizona mining companies who enlist in the Arizona militia for border duty will receive 50 days pay. They will not be paid after the expiration of 30 days, but their positions will be held open for them until such time as they are freed from army service. This has been announced by the managements of the mining companies.

Lieut. M. H. Blome and Lieut. O. E. Goetz of the Arizona national guard, are about to start a vigorous recruiting campaign through the small towns of Cochise county.

The militia regiment is being inoculated against typhoid fever and smallpox.

CHEWING GUM TO BE SENT CO. K

Suffragists Also Will Send Goggles, Talcum Powder and Mentholatum.

Smoked goggles, chewing gum, mentholatum and talcum powder will be sent to the members of company K, Texas national guard, at their camp in San Antonio, Tex., by the members of the El Paso Round Franchise League.

The league decided to send boxes of goodies and luxuries to the El Paso national guardmen at frequent intervals, and Mrs. George H. Clements was appointed chairman of the committee to attend to this, with Mrs. C. A. Haniel, Mrs. B. F. Jenkins, Mrs. M. Sten, Mrs. H. P. Corbin and Miss E. M. Angus as the committee members.

Persons desiring to send boxes of chewing gum, candy, fruit, mentholatum and cold cream for the soldiers, may leave the packages at the chamber of commerce and the committee will pack them and ship them. Contributions of money for the goggles to relieve the eye strain of the men in the marches, may also be left at the chamber of commerce, or with any of the committee members.

Mrs. Jenkins Makes Report.

The principal interest of the Round Franchise League meeting was centered in the interesting report of Mrs. H. P. Corbin, local delegate to the state suffrage convention in Dallas. Mrs. Jenkins spoke of the variety of work undertaken by the state suffrage league of the state. She told of the splendid work done by some of the men in the state, who are now in the east Texas trenches in conducting night schools for young men and women employed during the day. The league in San Antonio maintains a woman's exchange, which has a business of about $1000 a year. She spoke of the assistance given the suffrage workers by the men who believed in suffrage.

Mrs. H. P. Corbin read an article from a Denver paper in which the state against the success of equal suffrage in Colorado, made by the anti-suffragists were refuted by the women of the state. Mrs. Jenkins also read a humorous verse on woman voting.

In the business of the meeting the ideas presented by the visiting suffrage workers who were here last week, were thoroughly discussed.

To Meet Once Each Month.

It was decided that as many of the members will be out of town during the summer, the monthly meeting will be held but once a month during June, July and August, and that the meeting day shall be the first Tuesday of the month. To relieve the president of work during the summer, a chairman will be appointed to serve during each month. Mrs. A. Haniel will be the chairman for June with Mrs. H. M. Angus as vice chairman. This meeting was very well attended.

GEN. CALLES TO ASK U. S. TO RELEASE AMMUNITION

Douglas, Ariz., May 19.—It is reported here that Gen. P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, is preparing to petition the United States for a release of surplus ammunition held on the border, to permit the Carranza troops to wage warfare against the Yagui Indians.

While Carranza troops near Agua Prieta are admittedly well supplied with munitions, Mexican officials answer evasively when asked to send the forces fighting the Yagui.

5 ARIZONA PLANTS LISTED FOR MUNITION FACTORIES

Bisbee, Ariz., May 19.—As a result of the survey of the industrial preparedness committee, five plants in the Warren district have been listed as munition factories available for the government in time of war.

The Arizona members of the preparedness committee are J. B. Gray, Capt. John C. Greenway, David Jones, Frank W. Guild and A. G. McGregory. All are engineers of prominence.

NEW MEXICO GUARDSMEN TO ESCORT ARMY SUPPLY TRAINS

Santa Fe, N. M., May 19.—The New Mexico militia will be employed during the summer to escort army supply trains into the interior of Mexico, according to letters received here from Columbus. However, the men must first undergo a physical examination and it is feared that if the examination is rigid many of the guardsmen will be returned home.

ALBUQUERQUE OFFERS SITE FOR MOBILIZATION CAMP

Albuquerque, N. M., May 19.—Acknowledgment has been made by the war department to the city council of the offer of Albuquerque to provide a mobilization camp on the mesa east of this city. The war department advises that the offer has been referred to Gen. Frederick Funston at San Antonio.

COMPANY K IS NOW SWORN IN

Take the Oath as Volunteers and Enter United States Service.

By JOHN H. REGAN.

Camp Wilson, San Antonio, Texas, May 19.—There was a drizzle in the air yesterday afternoon when 147 privates and non-commissioned officers and three commissioned officers were sworn into the federal service on the streets of company K. The act came in the wake of several days of twelfth-day, and immediately upon the administering of the oath the men fell into cheers.

Now the bedraggled civilians who resembled a pack of hoboes are on the eve of receiving uniforms. Many of them felt so miserable in their spotted and torn civilian clothes that they were prepared to swear away their whole lives to get out of wearing the cloth of huns.

Going Into U. S. Service.

Three men from the company were detailed on Tuesday to make up the muster rolls. When the news spread through camp those who much talk of going to the men as to the requirements of the additional enlistment. Few dared to enter the regular army. The general sentiment was that the soldiers should remain a volunteer organization.

After drill on Wednesday morning the men were lined up by their number to roll. Some looked but later gave way. At 1 o'clock yesterday call was given to assemble at the company premises and a few minutes later the men raised their right hands to the sky and took the oath of a soldier for three years.

The condition of the federalization allows for a service credit for all enlistment time in the militia; and the additional provision is that the enlistment should remain a volunteer organization.

Company I, Mineral Wells, and Company L, of Dalhart, were sworn in almost simultaneously with Company K. Their cheers interfered with the K swearing. It is in order then to say that everybody was enthusiastic.

Real Soldiers Now.

Men and boys who never did more than carry a rifle or hunt a burglar with an auto model six-shooter are now walking mysteriously up and down the streets and hills of El Paso, to convince themselves that the transition has taken place. The commissions of Capt. Jenkins and Lieut. Elliott and Goetz are conspicuous.

The boys as a whole, are taking the experience with good spirit. A few married men are wondering about their wives and the things they will see when they learn their men have become regulars. The single men are in the majority. The percentage being about 70 per cent.

Not Cabbage With Relish.

We are all so hungry when the mess call is given after four hours of drill, we hold cabbage as a fit diet for a king, much less a "rookie" and we eat it.

Our chief bugle is a latometer and he spends all of his time between his two ears. Being a seaman, he has no land lubber signs. As a result, more regulars are going around with swig and anchors and heads across the sea than with soft shells, this in spite of the fact that most of us are plain dirt.

Early and after the stinging of the muster roll, we received our "dog checks." These are to be engraved with our number, name and company. We will wear these about our necks in sea-surf bathing fashion.

Y. M. C. A. Kind to Boys.

A splendid test of the far reaching effect of the Y. M. C. A. is that many hundreds of the boys from all the large Texas towns have gone to the "Y" for letter writing and packages and a generous welcome has been given to all.

K company is fortunate in having a great number of ex-regimental soldiers. First sergeant J. E. Manigault has had the task on his shoulders of most of the squad drills while the officers have been engaged in securing equipment and arranging the details of the muster. Joe Clements, of The Herald, has been showed under with bookkeeping and records and has George Revere, of the First National bank, as his assistant. Clements term expires in June. He expects to return to El Paso.

"Rookies" Among Officers.

There have been "rookies" among the officers as well as the privates. Several officers were sent to get "out posts" and "skirmish lines" by the officers who know better and one very nearly asked for "submarine ammunition," so it is declared.

Eight men are stationed to a squad tent and tent No. 3 is a favorite rendezvous. Here corporal Ernest Sauer and lance corporal W. Orlaway entertain with true Texas hospitality and every guest leaves a cigar butt in the tin can jabon.

Today we are to be inoculated with typhoid anti-toxin serum while Monday was foot inspection. There were all kinds of feet—everything from web to six toes and some flat and some with broken arches.

A splendid thing about the transition is that the army men are disposed to give all the men a chance and the post hospital is crowded each morning with men receiving special treatment.
